

My Beloved,

You are My very special Valentine ~ color, race, or gender makes no difference to Me because I am full of compassion and mercy to all. You are the apple of My eye and My plans for you are good and not for disaster, and to give you hope. All your diseases were healed because of the stripes I bore on My back. The blood I shed on the cross allows Me to clothe you in My robe of righteousness and forgive all your sins ~ past, present, and future. I am praying you will choose life with Me and remember My promises in the Word which will help you become an overcomer in this world. This will bring you great joy and peace beyond your understanding. Come, My Beloved. I will encompass you with all of Heaven's amazing love and grace which will be yours forever.

Thank you for being My Valentine.

Your most faithful Lover,

Jesus

Jean Flinn
Happy Valentine's Day